
Doug Habegger
Director of Partnership
Ministries, RHMA

B.A. in Literature, Wheaton College, 1971

Doug grew up in a small town in northeast Indiana. He and his wife, Joy, both attended the same town and country church that produced more than its share of pastors, missionaries, and other Christian workers. Doug and Joy were married in 1971, and in 1973 they moved to Morton, Illinois, where they were public school teachers. In 1980, Doug was asked to join the home office staff of the Fellowship of Evangelical Churches in Fort Wayne, Indiana, as the Director of Christian Education. Five years later, in 1985, a call came from Grace Evangelical Church in Morton with an invitation for Doug to join the pastoral staff. In 1992, he was called to be Grace's Senior Pastor. He served in that capacity for 20 years. Following his retirement, Doug was pleased to be offered the position as Director of Partnership Ministries at RHMA.

Doug and Joy have two married children and four granddaughters.
